

I HAVE EMPTIED MY HEART

For long time I treated my heart

Like a big trash can

Filled with vain desires

Like a pagan's Kabah

Filled with worthless idols

Now I have emptied my heart

Cleansed it inside and out

Polished it all around

For the new resident to come

And live for ever

No one lives here any more

I have kicked every one out

Neither there is lust

Nor tempting wealth

Nor false pride

Eyes have dried up

All sores healed

No pain no more

There is no darkness

Only "light upon light"

I am sad no more

I am filled with joy
My beloved is coming
To live in my heart
The new resident of my heart
Is the One who gave me the heart
Gave me feelings and love
Then took it away
In my heart now
He will live for ever
Without any partners
My heart will beat only for Him
My lips will sing
Only for Him
Song of "lailahailAllah"
There is no God except one God
